

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

NIGHT DISPATCHES.

CONGRESSIONAL.

11TH CONGRESS—SECOND SESSION.

Bills for Funding the National Debt Under Consideration in the Senate—New Articles Reported by the Impeachment Managers and Adopted by the House—The Articles Ready for the Senate.

WASHINGTON, March 3. Senate.

On motion of Mr. Cole, the Committee on Finance were instructed to inquire into the expediency of repealing all laws imposing taxes on incomes and manufacturers.

The bill passed, exempting property in the District of Columbia, held for school purposes, from local taxation.

Also the bill restoring alternate even sections of lands along the line of the Pacific Railroad, and others, to the states.

The Senate, however, concurred in the amendment to the bill making an appropriation to the heirs of Gen. Robert Anderson.

Mr. Frelinghuysen introduced a bill to provide a uniformity of coinage between the United States and other countries. Referred to the Finance Committee.

The bill provided that the amount of gold in a coin, as a weight, should not exceed by more than 1/13 grain, to correspond with the amount of pure gold contained in the English sovereign or pound sterling, and all other coins should be of the same weight.

Also, that after the 1st of January next an additional tax of 10 per cent be imposed on all transactions of exchange or of a commercial nature in which other coins than the sovereign or pound sterling shall be used.

Mr. Bates, from the Committee on Territories, reported, with an amendment, a bill to provide a government for the Territories.

The bill for the relief of the settlers on the late Sioux reservation passed.

At one o'clock the clerk of the House announced the appointment of the managers of the bill, and the bill was referred to the Committee on Finance.

Mr. Wilson called up the bill to facilitate the payment of soldiers' bounty under the act of 1863, that authorizes the payment of a sum equivalent to an additional office accommodation, &c. After discussion it was referred to the Committee on Finance.

Mr. Howard offered the following order on the part of the select committee of seven on impeachment: Ordered, that the Secretary of the Senate be directed to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate is ready to receive the managers of the bill, and to direct the managers to carry to the Senate articles of impeachment against Andrew Johnson, President of the United States. Adopted.

On motion of Mr. Wilson, the Senate took up the bill, and the managers, and for the conversion of U. S. notes. The question was on the substation reported by Mr. Sherman from the Committee on Finance.

Mr. Moore, in opposition to the bill, and in reply to Mr. Sherman's speech of last week, he thought that the most important thing for the welfare of the country at the time was,

Further reduction of the expenditures as low as possible.

Second—A reduction of taxation, leaving a certain sum to be paid annually on the public debt.

Third—Some measure looking to the speedy assumption of specific payments.

Fourth—An extension of a national banking system to accommodate all sections of the country, the notes of which are to be held in reserve.

Fifth—A new loan to absorb the national debt at a lower rate of interest.

The bill was then postponed until to-morrow.

A bill was received from the Secretary of War to the resolution of inquiry whether and when military districts have been established in the District of Columbia, and the rank and duty of officers, and the expenses incurred, &c. Referred to the Military Committee.

The Senate then proceeded to the consideration of the bill, and the committee on the standing rules of the Senate. The Clerk read the rules, which were then laid over for further consideration, and at 3 o'clock, on the 29th, the bill was referred to the committee on the standing rules of the Senate.

The report on the legislative department was first considered.

MEMPHIS, March 3. In Convention to-day a resolution was adopted to appoint a committee to frame an ordinance for the relief of the people from pecuniary embarrassment, the same to be consistent with the rights and obligations of all parties and the Constitution of the United States.

The report on the legislative department was first considered.

MEMPHIS, March 3. In Convention to-day a resolution was adopted to appoint a committee to frame an ordinance for the relief of the people from pecuniary embarrassment, the same to be consistent with the rights and obligations of all parties and the Constitution of the United States.

The report on the legislative department was first considered.

MEMPHIS, March 3. In Convention to-day a resolution was adopted to appoint a committee to frame an ordinance for the relief of the people from pecuniary embarrassment, the same to be consistent with the rights and obligations of all parties and the Constitution of the United States.

The report on the legislative department was first considered.

MEMPHIS, March 3. In Convention to-day a resolution was adopted to appoint a committee to frame an ordinance for the relief of the people from pecuniary embarrassment, the same to be consistent with the rights and obligations of all parties and the Constitution of the United States.

The report on the legislative department was first considered.

MEMPHIS, March 3. In Convention to-day a resolution was adopted to appoint a committee to frame an ordinance for the relief of the people from pecuniary embarrassment, the same to be consistent with the rights and obligations of all parties and the Constitution of the United States.

The report on the legislative department was first considered.

MEMPHIS, March 3. In Convention to-day a resolution was adopted to appoint a committee to frame an ordinance for the relief of the people from pecuniary embarrassment, the same to be consistent with the rights and obligations of all parties and the Constitution of the United States.

The report on the legislative department was first considered.

MEMPHIS, March 3. In Convention to-day a resolution was adopted to appoint a committee to frame an ordinance for the relief of the people from pecuniary embarrassment, the same to be consistent with the rights and obligations of all parties and the Constitution of the United States.

The report on the legislative department was first considered.

MEMPHIS, March 3. In Convention to-day a resolution was adopted to appoint a committee to frame an ordinance for the relief of the people from pecuniary embarrassment, the same to be consistent with the rights and obligations of all parties and the Constitution of the United States.

The report on the legislative department was first considered.

MEMPHIS, March 3. In Convention to-day a resolution was adopted to appoint a committee to frame an ordinance for the relief of the people from pecuniary embarrassment, the same to be consistent with the rights and obligations of all parties and the Constitution of the United States.

The report on the legislative department was first considered.

MEMPHIS, March 3. In Convention to-day a resolution was adopted to appoint a committee to frame an ordinance for the relief of the people from pecuniary embarrassment, the same to be consistent with the rights and obligations of all parties and the Constitution of the United States.

The report on the legislative department was first considered.

MEMPHIS, March 3. In Convention to-day a resolution was adopted to appoint a committee to frame an ordinance for the relief of the people from pecuniary embarrassment, the same to be consistent with the rights and obligations of all parties and the Constitution of the United States.

The report on the legislative department was first considered.

MEMPHIS, March 3. In Convention to-day a resolution was adopted to appoint a committee to frame an ordinance for the relief of the people from pecuniary embarrassment, the same to be consistent with the rights and obligations of all parties and the Constitution of the United States.

The report on the legislative department was first considered.

MEMPHIS, March 3. In Convention to-day a resolution was adopted to appoint a committee to frame an ordinance for the relief of the people from pecuniary embarrassment, the same to be consistent with the rights and obligations of all parties and the Constitution of the United States.

The report on the legislative department was first considered.

MEMPHIS, March 3. In Convention to-day a resolution was adopted to appoint a committee to frame an ordinance for the relief of the people from pecuniary embarrassment, the same to be consistent with the rights and obligations of all parties and the Constitution of the United States.

The report on the legislative department was first considered.

MEMPHIS, March 3. In Convention to-day a resolution was adopted to appoint a committee to frame an ordinance for the relief of the people from pecuniary embarrassment, the same to be consistent with the rights and obligations of all parties and the Constitution of the United States.

The report on the legislative department was first considered.

MEMPHIS, March 3. In Convention to-day a resolution was adopted to appoint a committee to frame an ordinance for the relief of the people from pecuniary embarrassment, the same to be consistent with the rights and obligations of all parties and the Constitution of the United States.

The report on the legislative department was first considered.

MEMPHIS, March 3. In Convention to-day a resolution was adopted to appoint a committee to frame an ordinance for the relief of the people from pecuniary embarrassment, the same to be consistent with the rights and obligations of all parties and the Constitution of the United States.

The report on the legislative department was first considered.

MEMPHIS, March 3. In Convention to-day a resolution was adopted to appoint a committee to frame an ordinance for the relief of the people from pecuniary embarrassment, the same to be consistent with the rights and obligations of all parties and the Constitution of the United States.

The report on the legislative department was first considered.

MEMPHIS, March 3. In Convention to-day a resolution was adopted to appoint a committee to frame an ordinance for the relief of the people from pecuniary embarrassment, the same to be consistent with the rights and obligations of all parties and the Constitution of the United States.

The report on the legislative department was first considered.

MEMPHIS, March 3. In Convention to-day a resolution was adopted to appoint a committee to frame an ordinance for the relief of the people from pecuniary embarrassment, the same to be consistent with the rights and obligations of all parties and the Constitution of the United States.

The report on the legislative department was first considered.

MEMPHIS, March 3. In Convention to-day a resolution was adopted to appoint a committee to frame an ordinance for the relief of the people from pecuniary embarrassment, the same to be consistent with the rights and obligations of all parties and the Constitution of the United States.

The report on the legislative department was first considered.

MEMPHIS, March 3. In Convention to-day a resolution was adopted to appoint a committee to frame an ordinance for the relief of the people from pecuniary embarrassment, the same to be consistent with the rights and obligations of all parties and the Constitution of the United States.

The report on the legislative department was first considered.

MEMPHIS, March 3. In Convention to-day a resolution was adopted to appoint a committee to frame an ordinance for the relief of the people from pecuniary embarrassment, the same to be consistent with the rights and obligations of all parties and the Constitution of the United States.

The report on the legislative department was first considered.

MEMPHIS, March 3. In Convention to-day a resolution was adopted to appoint a committee to frame an ordinance for the relief of the people from pecuniary embarrassment, the same to be consistent with the rights and obligations of all parties and the Constitution of the United States.

The report on the legislative department was first considered.

MEMPHIS, March 3. In Convention to-day a resolution was adopted to appoint a committee to frame an ordinance for the relief of the people from pecuniary embarrassment, the same to be consistent with the rights and obligations of all parties and the Constitution of the United States.

The report on the legislative department was first considered.

MEMPHIS, March 3. In Convention to-day a resolution was adopted to appoint a committee to frame an ordinance for the relief of the people from pecuniary embarrassment, the same to be consistent with the rights and obligations of all parties and the Constitution of the United States.

The report on the legislative department was first considered.

MEMPHIS, March 3. In Convention to-day a resolution was adopted to appoint a committee to frame an ordinance for the relief of the people from pecuniary embarrassment, the same to be consistent with the rights and obligations of all parties and the Constitution of the United States.

The report on the legislative department was first considered.

MEMPHIS, March 3. In Convention to-day a resolution was adopted to appoint a committee to frame an ordinance for the relief of the people from pecuniary embarrassment, the same to be consistent with the rights and obligations of all parties and the Constitution of the United States.

The report on the legislative department was first considered.

MEMPHIS, March 3. In Convention to-day a resolution was adopted to appoint a committee to frame an ordinance for the relief of the people from pecuniary embarrassment, the same to be consistent with the rights and obligations of all parties and the Constitution of the United States.

The report on the legislative department was first considered.

MEMPHIS, March 3. In Convention to-day a resolution was adopted to appoint a committee to frame an ordinance for the relief of the people from pecuniary embarrassment, the same to be consistent with the rights and obligations of all parties and the Constitution of the United States.

The report on the legislative department was first considered.

MEMPHIS, March 3. In Convention to-day a resolution was adopted to appoint a committee to frame an ordinance for the relief of the people from pecuniary embarrassment, the same to be consistent with the rights and obligations of all parties and the Constitution of the United States.

The report on the legislative department was first considered.

MEMPHIS, March 3. In Convention to-day a resolution was adopted to appoint a committee to frame an ordinance for the relief of the people from pecuniary embarrassment, the same to be consistent with the rights and obligations of all parties and the Constitution of the United States.

The report on the legislative department was first considered.

MEMPHIS, March 3. In Convention to-day a resolution was adopted to appoint a committee to frame an ordinance for the relief of the people from pecuniary embarrassment, the same to be consistent with the rights and obligations of all parties and the Constitution of the United States.

The report on the legislative department was first considered.

MEMPHIS, March 3. In Convention to-day a resolution was adopted to appoint a committee to frame an ordinance for the relief of the people from pecuniary embarrassment, the same to be consistent with the rights and obligations of all parties and the Constitution of the United States.

The report on the legislative department was first considered.

MEMPHIS, March 3. In Convention to-day a resolution was adopted to appoint a committee to frame an ordinance for the relief of the people from pecuniary embarrassment, the same to be consistent with the rights and obligations of all parties and the Constitution of the United States.

The report on the legislative department was first considered.

MEMPHIS, March 3. In Convention to-day a resolution was adopted to appoint a committee to frame an ordinance for the relief of the people from pecuniary embarrassment, the same to be consistent with the rights and obligations of all parties and the Constitution of the United States.

The report on the legislative department was first considered.

MEMPHIS, March 3. In Convention to-day a resolution was adopted to appoint a committee to frame an ordinance for the relief of the people from pecuniary embarrassment, the same to be consistent with the rights and obligations of all parties and the Constitution of the United States.

The report on the legislative department was first considered.

MEMPHIS, March 3. In Convention to-day a resolution was adopted to appoint a committee to frame an ordinance for the relief of the people from pecuniary embarrassment, the same to be consistent with the rights and obligations of all parties and the Constitution of the United States.

The report on the legislative department was first considered.

MEMPHIS, March 3. In Convention to-day a resolution was adopted to appoint a committee to frame an ordinance for the relief of the people from pecuniary embarrassment, the same to be consistent with the rights and obligations of all parties and the Constitution of the United States.

The report on the legislative department was first considered.

MEMPHIS, March 3. In Convention to-day a resolution was adopted to appoint a committee to frame an ordinance for the relief of the people from pecuniary embarrassment, the same to be consistent with the rights and obligations of all parties and the Constitution of the United States.

The report on the legislative department was first considered.

MEMPHIS, March 3. In Convention to-day a resolution was adopted to appoint a committee to frame an ordinance for the relief of the people from pecuniary embarrassment, the same to be consistent with the rights and obligations of all parties and the Constitution of the United States.

The report on the legislative department was first considered.

MEMPHIS, March 3. In Convention to-day a resolution was adopted to appoint a committee to frame an ordinance for the relief of the people from pecuniary embarrassment, the same to be consistent with the rights and obligations of all parties and the Constitution of the United States.

The report on the legislative department was first considered.

MEMPHIS, March 3. In Convention to-day a resolution was adopted to appoint a committee to frame an ordinance for the relief of the people from pecuniary embarrassment, the same to be consistent with the rights and obligations of all parties and the Constitution of the United States.

The report on the legislative department was first considered.

MEMPHIS, March 3. In Convention to-day a resolution was adopted to appoint a committee to frame an ordinance for the relief of the people from pecuniary embarrassment, the same to be consistent with the rights and obligations of all parties and the Constitution of the United States.

The report on the legislative department was first considered.

MEMPHIS, March 3. In Convention to-day a resolution was adopted to appoint a committee to frame an ordinance for the relief of the people from pecuniary embarrassment, the same to be consistent with the rights and obligations of all parties and the Constitution of the United States.

The report on the legislative department was first considered.

MEMPHIS, March 3.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 4, 1868.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

EVENING DISPATCHES.

NEW YORK.

A Night of Terrible Fires in the Metropolis—Barren's Magazine Again Destroyed—Great Losses—Fires in the City—Fusils—Festivals Among the Wild Beast—Fifteen Cities of Exploring Lions and Tigers—Fires in Other Parts of the City and Brooklyn—Meeting in Benefit of the Poor's College.

New York, March 3.

A meeting was held at Cooper Institute last evening in aid of Washington College. Among the speakers were Henry Ward Beecher, D. L.涉, Gerrit Smith, and others. Letters of approbation of the objects of the meeting were read from James T. Fields, George Wm. Curtis, Gerrit Smith, Horace Greeley, and others. Apportioned resolutions to various benevolent societies were adopted.

A fire broke out after midnight in Barnum's Museum, in the portion occupied by Van Amburgh's menagerie. So rapid did the flames spread that it was impossible to extinguish them in the galleries.

The pelt of the lions, tigers, and other animals, as the hamster selected in the fire, were saved, and they bounded from side to side as if dazed, and then against the walls.

At 10 o'clock—among them a kangaroo, a real leopard, a few monkeys together with the pelicans and a variety of other small birds were got out. The hamster was also saved.

The Market street side of the police and of the were more successful.

In a few hours, two camels, a pair of Japanese deer, a Bemese cow, a lamb and a variety of small animals were got out. Many of them had narrow escapes, and a few were slightly singed.

The horses were at work at another fire in Spring street, and when they arrived they were saving the animals.

In a few hours the interest was increased, and the adjoining by-busy sawing and the Prescot House was on fire again, but was saved by extinguishing exertions.

The thieves in the confusion managed to appropriate a considerable amount of property. Several spectators were relieved of their money.

The loss on the Museum and its contents, including Van Amburgh's menagerie, will amount to five hundred thousand dollars. It is insured, but to what amount cannot be ascertained.

The investment of $200 occupied as a restaurant, lost stock to the amount of about $2000 insured.

The basement of 541, occupied by Zeigler, a sample room, lost on property and fixtures $5000.

No. 207, a four-story building, was occupied on the fourth floor by F. Frankenburg, on the third by G. H. Higgin, dealer in hardware, on the second by John Wiley, bookseller, and on the upper floor by various parties. All suffer heavy losses.

The upholstery store of Samuel F. Ireland, on Mercey street, in the rear, was burnt out. Several other houses lost heavily. All the people in the Museum were saved.

Father's toy store, on Spring street, was burnt last night. Loss, $500.

The hundred cotton wadding factory, in Brooklyn, was partially burned last night. Loss, $500.

WASHINGTON.

Decision in Relation to Reports of Distrayed Vessels—Hancock's Reply to Grant's Order—Heavy Defalcation of the Bank Teller.

Washington, March 3.

The following is a synopsis of a decision made by the Treasury Department: That a vessel trading on the North, Northeastern, and Northwestern frontiers of the United States, and principally by steam of water, in the regular course of her voyage to be repaired, in order to ensure the safety of the vessel to enable her to reach her port of destination, shall be entitled to pay a premium of fifty per cent on all repairs so made, and that a vessel which, after encountering a gale, is enabled to navigate the entire length of Lake Erie, and so to touch the port of her destination, the premium will be reduced to twenty-five per cent.

The Legal Tender arrived from New Orleans yesterday morning and discharged a large lot of scrap iron for the New Albany Rolling Mill.

The Neck long-boat arrived yesterday. She discharged 200 bales of cotton, and a large lot of scrap iron for the New Albany Rolling Mill.

THE CINCINNATI GAZETTE of yesterday says:

The St. Charles arrived from Louisville yesterday, and went on the decks. She will probably leave for Pittsburgh Sunday morning in a regularly weekly packet, in charge of Captain C. A. Dray.

The Lawrence arrived from Louisville yesterday, and has broken her shaft near the journal, and will therefore remain and lay up for repairs.

The Commercial of the same date says:

The weather was cold and boisterous, with snow nearly all day, and a heavy gale prevailed on the Lower Mississippi on Sunday. The steamer Southerner, bound for New Orleans, was carried ashore in Walnut Bend, and the passengers were partly blown away. No other damage.

The Neck long-boat arrived yesterday, on reading the same place, was carried some distance upstream against all the force of the current, and for one year from the date of the occurrence, January 3, 1868.

The Duxbury passed Cairo yesterday morning, and will arrive here this evening.

The P. W. Strader passed Cairo yesterday with 200 bales of cotton and 170 packages. She will arrive here this morning.

A heavy gale prevailed on the Lower Mississippi on Sunday. The steamer Southerner, bound for New Orleans, was carried ashore in Walnut Bend, and the passengers were partly blown away. No other damage.

The Neck long-boat arrived yesterday, on reading the same place, was carried some distance upstream against all the force of the current, and for one year from the date of the occurrence, January 3, 1868.

The Duxbury passed Cairo yesterday morning, and will arrive here this evening.

The P. W. Strader passed Cairo yesterday with 200 bales of cotton and 170 packages. She will arrive here this morning.

A heavy gale prevailed on the Lower Mississippi on Sunday. The steamer Southerner, bound for New Orleans, was carried ashore in Walnut Bend, and the passengers were partly blown away. No other damage.

The Neck long-boat arrived yesterday, on reading the same place, was carried some distance upstream against all the force of the current, and for one year from the date of the occurrence, January 3, 1868.

The Duxbury passed Cairo yesterday morning, and will arrive here this evening.

The P. W. Strader passed Cairo yesterday with 200 bales of cotton and 170 packages. She will arrive here this morning.

A heavy gale prevailed on the Lower Mississippi on Sunday. The steamer Southerner, bound for New Orleans, was carried ashore in Walnut Bend, and the passengers were partly blown away. No other damage.

The Neck long-boat arrived yesterday, on reading the same place, was carried some distance upstream against all the force of the current, and for one year from the date of the occurrence, January 3, 1868.

The Duxbury passed Cairo yesterday morning, and will arrive here this evening.

The P. W. Strader passed Cairo yesterday with 200 bales of cotton and 170 packages. She will arrive here this morning.

A heavy gale prevailed on the Lower Mississippi on Sunday. The steamer Southerner, bound for New Orleans, was carried ashore in Walnut Bend, and the passengers were partly blown away. No other damage.

The Neck long-boat arrived yesterday, on reading the same place, was carried some distance upstream against all the force of the current, and for one year from the date of the occurrence, January 3, 1868.

The Duxbury passed Cairo yesterday morning, and will arrive here this evening.

The P. W. Strader passed Cairo yesterday with 200 bales of cotton and 170 packages. She will arrive here this morning.

A heavy gale prevailed on the Lower Mississippi on Sunday. The steamer Southerner, bound for New Orleans, was carried ashore in Walnut Bend, and the passengers were partly blown away. No other damage.

The Neck long-boat arrived yesterday, on reading the same place, was carried some distance upstream against all the force of the current, and for one year from the date of the occurrence, January 3, 1868.

The Duxbury passed Cairo yesterday morning, and will arrive here this evening.

The P. W. Strader passed Cairo yesterday with 200 bales of cotton and 170 packages. She will arrive here this morning.

A heavy gale prevailed on the Lower Mississippi on Sunday. The steamer Southerner, bound for New Orleans, was carried ashore in Walnut Bend, and the passengers were partly blown away. No other damage.

The Neck long-boat arrived yesterday, on reading the same place, was carried some distance upstream against all the force of the current, and for one year from the date of the occurrence, January 3, 1868.

The Duxbury passed Cairo yesterday morning, and will arrive here this evening.

The P. W. Strader passed Cairo yesterday with 200 bales of cotton and 170 packages. She will arrive here this morning.

A heavy gale prevailed on the Lower Mississippi on Sunday. The steamer Southerner, bound for New Orleans, was carried ashore in Walnut Bend, and the passengers were partly blown away. No other damage.

The Neck long-boat arrived yesterday, on reading the same place, was carried some distance upstream against all the force of the current, and for one year from the date of the occurrence, January 3, 1868.

The Duxbury passed Cairo yesterday morning, and will arrive here this evening.

The P. W. Strader passed Cairo yesterday with 200 bales of cotton and 170 packages. She will arrive here this morning.

A heavy gale prevailed on the Lower Mississippi on Sunday. The steamer Southerner, bound for New Orleans, was carried ashore in Walnut Bend, and the passengers were partly blown away. No other damage.

The Neck long-boat arrived yesterday, on reading the same place, was carried some distance upstream against all the force of the current, and for one year from the date of the occurrence, January 3, 1868.

The Duxbury passed Cairo yesterday morning, and will arrive here this evening.

The P. W. Strader passed Cairo yesterday with 200 bales of cotton and 170 packages. She will arrive here this morning.

A heavy gale prevailed on the Lower Mississippi on Sunday. The steamer Southerner, bound for New Orleans, was carried ashore in Walnut Bend, and the passengers were partly blown away. No other damage.

The Neck long-boat arrived yesterday, on reading the same place, was carried some distance upstream against all the force of the current, and for one year from the date of the occurrence, January 3, 1868.

The Duxbury passed Cairo yesterday morning, and will arrive here this evening.

The P. W. Strader passed Cairo yesterday with 200 bales of cotton and 170 packages. She will arrive here this morning.

A heavy gale prevailed on the Lower Mississippi on Sunday. The steamer Southerner, bound for New Orleans, was carried ashore in Walnut Bend, and the passengers were partly blown away. No other damage.

The Neck long-boat arrived yesterday, on reading the same place, was carried some distance upstream against all the force of the current, and for one year from the date of the occurrence, January 3, 1868.

The Duxbury passed Cairo yesterday morning, and will arrive here this evening.

The P. W. Strader passed Cairo yesterday with 200 bales of cotton and 170 packages. She will arrive here this morning.

A heavy gale prevailed on the Lower Mississippi on Sunday. The steamer Southerner, bound for New Orleans, was carried ashore in Walnut Bend, and the passengers were partly blown away. No other damage.

The Neck long-boat arrived yesterday, on reading the same place, was carried some distance upstream against all the force of the current, and for one year from the date of the occurrence, January 3, 1868.

The Duxbury passed Cairo yesterday morning, and will arrive here this evening.

The P. W. Strader passed Cairo yesterday with 200 bales of cotton and 170 packages. She will arrive here this morning.

A heavy gale prevailed on the Lower Mississippi on Sunday. The steamer Southerner, bound for New Orleans, was carried ashore in Walnut Bend, and the passengers were partly blown away. No other damage.

The Neck long-boat arrived yesterday, on reading the same place, was carried some distance upstream against all the force of the current, and for one year from the date of the occurrence, January 3, 1868.

The Duxbury passed Cairo yesterday morning, and will arrive here this evening.

The P. W. Strader passed Cairo yesterday with 200 bales of cotton and 170 packages. She will arrive here this morning.

A heavy gale prevailed on the Lower Mississippi on Sunday. The steamer Southerner, bound for New Orleans, was carried ashore in Walnut Bend, and the passengers were partly blown away. No other damage.

The Neck long-boat arrived yesterday, on reading the same place, was carried some distance upstream against all the force of the current, and for one year from the date of the occurrence, January 3, 1868.

The Duxbury passed Cairo yesterday morning, and will arrive here this evening.

The P. W. Strader passed Cairo yesterday with 200 bales of cotton and 170 packages. She will arrive here this morning.

A heavy gale prevailed on the Lower Mississippi on Sunday. The steamer Southerner, bound for New Orleans, was carried ashore in Walnut Bend, and the passengers were partly blown away. No other damage.

The Neck long-boat arrived yesterday, on reading the same place, was carried some distance upstream against all the force of the current, and for one year from the date of the occurrence, January 3, 1868.

The Duxbury passed Cairo yesterday morning, and will arrive here this evening.

The P. W. Strader passed Cairo yesterday with 200 bales of cotton and 170 packages. She will arrive here this morning.

A heavy gale prevailed on the Lower Mississippi on Sunday. The steamer Southerner, bound for New Orleans, was carried ashore in Walnut Bend, and the passengers were partly blown away. No other damage.

The Neck long-boat arrived yesterday, on reading the same place, was carried some distance upstream against all the force of the current, and for one year from the date of the occurrence, January 3, 1868.

The Duxbury passed Cairo yesterday morning, and will arrive here this evening.

The P. W. Strader passed Cairo yesterday with 200 bales of cotton and 170 packages. She will arrive here this morning.

A heavy gale prevailed on the Lower Mississippi on Sunday. The steamer Southerner, bound for New Orleans, was carried ashore in Walnut Bend, and the passengers were partly blown away. No other damage.

The Neck long-boat arrived yesterday, on reading the same place, was carried some distance upstream against all the force of the current, and for one year from the date of the occurrence, January 3, 1868.

The Duxbury passed Cairo yesterday morning, and will arrive here this evening.

The P. W. Strader passed Cairo yesterday with 200 bales of cotton and 170 packages. She will arrive here this morning.

A heavy gale prevailed on the Lower Mississippi on Sunday. The steamer Southerner, bound for New Orleans, was carried ashore in Walnut Bend, and the passengers were partly blown away. No other damage.

The Neck long-boat arrived yesterday, on reading the same place, was carried some distance upstream against all the force of the current, and for one year from the date of the occurrence, January 3, 1868.

The Duxbury passed Cairo yesterday morning, and will arrive here this evening.

The P. W. Strader passed Cairo yesterday with 200 bales of cotton and 170 packages. She will arrive here this morning.

A heavy gale prevailed on the Lower Mississippi on Sunday. The steamer Southerner, bound for New Orleans, was carried ashore in Walnut Bend, and the passengers were partly blown away. No other damage.

The Neck long-boat arrived yesterday, on reading the same place, was carried some distance upstream against all the force of the current, and for one year from the date of the occurrence, January 3, 1868.

The Duxbury passed Cairo yesterday morning, and will arrive here this evening.

The P. W. Strader passed Cairo yesterday with 200 bales of cotton and 170 packages. She will arrive here this morning.

A heavy gale prevailed on the Lower Mississippi on Sunday. The steamer Southerner, bound for New Orleans, was carried ashore in Walnut Bend, and the passengers were partly blown away. No other damage.

The Neck long-boat arrived yesterday, on reading the same place, was carried some distance upstream against all the force of the current, and for one year from the date of the occurrence, January 3, 1868.

The Duxbury passed Cairo yesterday morning, and will arrive here this evening.

The P. W. Strader passed Cairo yesterday with 200 bales of cotton and 170 packages. She will arrive here this morning.

A heavy gale prevailed on the Lower Mississippi on Sunday. The steamer Southerner, bound for New Orleans, was carried ashore in Walnut Bend, and the passengers were partly blown away. No other damage.

The Neck long-boat arrived yesterday, on reading the same place, was carried some distance upstream against all the force of the current, and for one year from the date of the occurrence, January 3, 1868.

The Duxbury passed Cairo yesterday morning, and will arrive here this evening.

The P. W. Strader passed Cairo yesterday with 200 bales of cotton and 170 packages. She will arrive here this morning.